Section 2/4

2.1 The Service Provider undertakes to carry out the project for the Recipient; elements for the project are specified in the offer. The offer is attached as Appendix 1 to this contract. The provider's liability to the Recipient for breach of contract or negligence is limited to the replacement value of the quoted image or model only. The Provider shall not be liable for and shall be held harmless by Recipient from any damage, loses or claims of whatever kind, arising out of, in connection with or resulting from misinterpretation or late delivery of the images or models. The Recipient agrees all material provided by the Recipient belong to the Recipient or the Recipient has a lawful use of the material for the purpose of the Provider providing the services to the Recipient.

2.2 The project, as well as the offer, is made and based entirely on the data provided by the Recipient before the works on the project begin. If the correction goes beyond the initial assumption, therefore, the project budget, the Provider reserves the right to reduce the number of sets of changes or charge extra for each additional set of changes. The decision will be made by the Recipient within no more than 5 working days. The valuation of the agreements will be sent in the form of an annex to the contract if necessary or requested, mentioned amendments will be applied only when the payment for the services which are already produced are settled.

2.3 Each project follows the same process. however in the case of smaller projects (e.g. diagrams) some parts might be skipped. It is important to note that images delivered in the particular steps of the project realization may not be of as high quality as the final product provided by the Provider. Any differences from the designated work schedule as well as changes to the contract must be approved by the Provider. Any differences from the designated work schedule as well as changes to the contract must be approved by both the Provider and the Recipient. If necessary, an annex to the contract needs to be prepared.

2.4 After receiving previews the Recipient agrees to send comments to the Provider within 5 working days or to inform about any delays in providing with comments. In the absence of any response from the Recipient, the final version of the project will be produced on the basis of the latest previews.
